THE XXII NUMBER 34.

LOUISA, LAWRENCE COUNTY, KENTUCKY, APRIL 26, 1907.

M. F. CONLEY, Publisher

DEATH.

Ellsworth Norris, A Former Citizen of Louisa.

Friends of Ellsworth Norris are sorry to hear that he had died last at his home in Louisa. He had been sick near-ly, but it was only three days before his death. His physical weakness and the bed which proved his end had been in business as a hunter about ten years. His fine business ability, his love for the trade, his person-ality and courteous manner were very successful, leaving a fortune of at least $25,000. It was more than likely, this man, to his affairs, seldom vacation, that caused his death.

Going to Huntington, Mr. Norris was in the grocery business, nephew, J. M. York, and at Huntington, he won and large and lucrative trade. He was a business man in Louisa, working for Freese and Norris, afterward branching out on his own at Cross street, opposite the Court House. He was like everybody and thrived, but was not the busy town man. Ellsworth went out into the world of trade, to win success, at the early age of 41.

THE NEWS has called his death "a loss." And it was. With his generous habits and temperate life, he should, ordinarily, have lived to a ripe old age, but it was to be his lot to die young.

A wasting disease fast-ly upon him, and today, instead of among men of affairs in the haunts of trade, respected by all who knew him, he sleeps the long sleep in the cemetery in Huntington to his ashes.

Circuit Court.

By order of Judge M. M. Hedwine Sheriff Clayton declared from the bench of the Lawrence county Court House last Monday morning that "Court is now open." Whereupon the gavel fell and the grand of the legal mill began. The first work was the impaneling of this Grand Jury:

M. H. Johns, foreman; Thomas Ash Garfield Moore; Lafayette Wheeler; W. A. Arrington; W. T. Kane; S. B. Polomy; H. F. Williams; C. W. Jones; J. L. Huletto; J. L. Hibbard and Gean Cornutte.

To them Judge Hedwine delivered a charge of great force and comprehensiveness. Offenses against decency, morality and temperance were condemned in unsparring terms.

Following charge the Petit Jury was impaneled. It consists of Gus Muncey, W. J. Vaughan, Davis Spencer, Jesse George, J. F. Cooper, W. H. Chapman, O. B. Swetnam, Geo. A. Elmsen, Wm. Sturgill, W. H. Morre, Wesley Jordan, J. M. Beasley, Walter Ross, R. F. Hendleton, J. W. Yates, J. F. Stump, Harwell Derfeld, Rube Cornutte, Harvey Hardin, Mer-edith Ross, Eugene Ross, Matthew Le-master and Thos. Maynard.

Prosecutor Waugh is on deck as usual, and the dockets are being rapidly cleared. As was predicted in this paper last week many process-ess have not been served, but the cause was also given.

There are no very important cases set for trial this term and it may be a short one. Judging from the crowds at the door of the grand jury room there will be something doing next fall.

The case against Tom Young for attacking Conductor Fultz and Brake-man Huffman was continued. Fultz is sick at Hot Springs.

Another Cyclone.

Can it be possible that the Kansas twisters are moving this way? They are very "moving" things. It must be said, for one of them, or a very near relation, paid this section a visit Thursday afternoon and moved John H. Spence's back porch over the top of the house, knocking down a chimney and landing in the front yard. Part of the kitchen roof was blown off and the torrent of rain completely drenched the interior.

The same frisky thing unroofed "Okey" John Damm's house and flattened James McGee's barn. No other damage has been reported.

Well Known Here.

About nine o'clock Monday night Mrs. Levine fell from a window of his room on the third floor of the Mess-mer-Broth Hotel, on Third avenue, Huntington, and is now lying at the City hospital in an unconscious condition.

Levine was a clerk in the clothing store of Ike Leckwith. He went to Huntington from Ohio several years ago. He had been drinking and dis-sipated. It is said for several days, and it is thought, he threw himself from the window with suicidal intent. About a dozen persons who were in the build-ing at the time believe the fall was an accident.

Tom Smith and Bill Embell, of Louisa, had a row one night last week about a girl. The quarrel arose over the girl going to Embell's place to live. Smith had been taking care of the girl for several years. Sun-day night she left his home and went to Embell's. Smith went there later and, calling the girl out-side, attempted to persuade her to go home, but she refused. He then attempted to force her to do so. Embell rushed from the house with a pistol and Smith immediately drew his revolver. Seven shots were fired. Smith was fired and Em-bell held to answer a charge of shooting.

At a revival meeting at Sutton, Carter county, Sunday night, the Haney boys, the Patricks and the Sextons broke loose, and when the smoke of battle had cleared away, one of the Patricks was found with his head badly crushed, from the effects of which he may die. A girl was the cause of all this trouble.

Everyone who is attending this ses-sion of court will wisely drop in and look over our complete line of Shoes. We sell several makes and grades. W. D. Pierce.

Sam Ireland.

Sam Robb Ireland is dead, and around his memory hangs the story of a career such as few men live through even to the age of thirty-five years. Sam Ireland, son of the late Judge W. C. Ireland, of Ashland, was several years ago through his ardent desire for adventure and his magnificent physique and fine mind, appointed to the body guard of Pres-ident McKinley, and was the first man to capture Czolgosz, the assass- inator of the third of the country's mar-tyred Chief Executives.

The news of his death, at his home in Washington, came suddenly to his friends and relatives, and now stories are being told of his career. It was this man who originated the unique campaign button "Sixteen to One" representing the sixteen pe- daled daisy with yellow center, and it was he who was forced to leave France while in the United States secret service, on a charge of trim- ming the Frenchmen, after having taught them how to play poker. This affair at the time almost started in- ternational difficulties, but was set- tled by the powers behind the throne in some manner.

He was a lawyer and possessed of one of the most brilliant as well as humorous minds in Northern Ken- tucky.

W. J. Vaughan.

In speaking of an overflow meeting of the West Virginia Sunday School convention held at the Fifth Avenue Baptist church at Huntington last Wednesday evening, the Huntington Dispatch says:

"The concluding speaker at this church was W. J. Vaughan, a native of Wayne county, and a product of that Wayne need not be ashamed to own. He has been a resident of the Blue Grass State for the past twelve years and is an enthusiastic Sunday School worker. His talk on Low Lawrence county, Ky., was transformed by organized Sunday School work from the worst to one of the best moral counties in the state, was exceedingly interesting. Mr. Vaughan has been secretary of the above county organization for a number of years."

Fine Tobacco.

Mr. Jacobs who lately moved to Louisa from Owensboro, showed the NEWS some splendid tobacco of his own growth. He had two "hands," of different varieties, but the quality of both was of the finest. Mr. Jacobs is an expert grower and is endeavoring to arouse an interest in tobacco among our farmers.

Tobacco is a valuable crop, and all who have cultivated it in this section usually had good returns. All who are interested in raising the "weed" should interview Mr. Jacobs.

THE ENTERTAINMENT

The Chorus Class and School of Expression Score a Success.

There should have been no vaca- tion in the Opera House last Tues- day evening. The programme of- fered was readed by home talent exclusively, the participants being members of Miss Kate Freese's chor- us class and Miss Mae Stafford's class in Expression. The weather was decidedly inclement and a very interesting meeting is going on at the M. E. Church South. This con- dition kept many away, but the house was comfortably filled and the young people on the stage were en- thusiastically received. For amate-urs they did remarkably well, and it is only truth to say that some of the numbers were rendered in a way that would be very creditable to professionals.

It was a varied programme, recita- tions, both grave and gay, macao- loques, pantomimes, illustrated songs, and vocal and instrumental music being given. When all did so well it would be unfair to be person- al. The NEWS would like to go into particulars and tell how each one acquitted himself, but a lack for space forbids. It must be said, however, that the "tiny tots," as usual, bore away the honors. How they managed to do so well, with such self-possession and with such an utter absence of self-consciousness is known only to the patient teachers who labored so long and successfully to bring this about. If you are inclined to say "Oh, anybody could do it," just try it once, and then have an attack of nervous prostra- tion. The young ladies, Miss Freese and Miss Stafford, have made a prac- tical showing that in their respec- tive lines they are entirely compet-ent. That chorus class, for in- stance, overcame a mere child, their selections with time and ex- perience would do credit to much more experienced singers, and the smooth-ness with which the vocal, and piano solos were rendered was cred- itable alike to teacher and pupil.

The work of Miss Stafford's class was creditable to her. She cer- tainly has the ability to find talent in her pupils and to develop when found.

One of Miss Freese's piano pu- tils, Miss Jeanne Adams, made a acceptable accompanist.

By an oversight of the print- er Roland Horton's name appeared on the programme as Roland William-son, and it is only fair to the lat- ter that the correction be made here. The parents of the youthful en- tertainers of Tuesday evening have good reason to be proud of them- selves for better looking, better dressed and better acting crowd of boys and girls and young ladies could not be pre- sented anywhere.

Home Circle Column.

A Column Dedicated To Tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle.

Luxuries and the surroundings of wealth and idleness cannot bring contentment of a young woman of pluck and good sense. She would far rather deny herself all luxuries and enjoy the glorious sense of independence which her own exertions bring. If parents could but realize this they would perhaps often assist their daughters in procuring self-supporting, honorable employment, wherein the restless roving of the mind might be checked.

No young man starting out for himself being independent upon his own exertions can afford unnecessary expenses. He must deny himself extras or always remain poor. Even a five cent cigar each day will amount to $18.25 in one year; and one who saves that sum will be much ahead of the one who spends it. And the habit of saving will be worth everything. If he saves $18.25 each year, only putting it at six per cent simple interest, it would in twenty years amount to $46.00. So much for one little trifle of indulgence. He who would in a few years be independent, and not envy the "capitalist" must start right.

In the struggle and battle of life there is none strong enough to bear the contest alone. All need sympathy and help, and they must have it or sure disaster or defeat will overtake them. He who thinks himself safe, when his life-bark flies gaily before the breeze with sails filled with winds of prosperity, is often the weakest of the crew when the storm and tempest come. Thus in the hour of forest trial many a weak woman has often been strong and brave to endure, where sturdiest manhood has succumbed and drifted helpless and discouraged before the gale of adversity.

Life is sweetened and made beautiful by sympathy—its asperities are toned down and its rough places made smooth by the touch of a gentle hand or a tone of a loving voice—even the severest trials may be endured and the heaviest burdens borne when aided by a very little thoughtful and precious help of this kind.

KEEP UP WITH THE CHILDREN.

There is in every community a class of people who seem incapable of receiving any education outside of their own limited experience. Life runs along easily enough for them until their children grow up and begin to look forward to something broader for themselves. Then the battle for supremacy begins in earnest. The child seems ungrateful to the parent and the parent seems tyrannous to the child.

It is very hard for a mother who has laid down precise ideas of how her life and belongings shall be arranged and finds that life fails to arrange itself according to her plans to find that her own daughter is one of the chief opponents of her ideas. And yet this is exactly what happens to the woman who fails to learn. Progression is a law of the universe, and one who attempts to retard its wheels is sure to be crushed beneath them.

There is something pitiless in the power that so often carries the child so far beyond the parent. It is the law of heaven that love should bow downward to the child—not backward to the parent. A true mother's love is sacrificial of self and asks no return. No child's love, however tender, can equal a mother's love, and it is not natural that it should. A great deal has been said of the duty of children to their parents when every thinking man and woman must recognize that the chief obligation is due from the parents to the children. The obligation is to keep abreast of the times with the child, so that the parent may be a mentor in times of need—a safe, unfailing guide and companion; not an incubus. To do all this is to fulfill the highest sense the trust heaven has laid upon parents.

John B. Bundren, aged 101, of Tateville, Tenn., has issued invitation for his wedding next August to Miss Rose McGuire, aged 100. They were youthful sweethearts, separated as a result of parental objections.

John's Rose was probably somewhat faded but his love seems perennial.

It is rumored that a new paper will be started at Greenup in the near future. It will in all probability be owned by a stock company. A. S. Not a drop of Alcohol

Sandy River Cannel Coal Co. vs. White House Coal Co.—Filed April 11, 1907.—(To be reported.) Appeal from Johnson Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Hobson, reversing.

Mining—Cannel Coal—Unlawful Taking—Willful Trespass—Honest Mistake—Measure of Damages.—In an action for the value of cannel coal wrongfully taken from the land of the owner, the rule is, where the trespass is willful, the owner is entitled to recover its value after it was removed from the mine, but if the taking was not willful, but the result of an honest mistake as to the true ownership of the mine, the measure of damages is the value of the coal as it was in the mine before it was disturbed.

Paintsville, Ky., April 19. — Henry Montgomery, who broke jail here Saturday afternoon, is now close to his home in Magoffin county among his friends. He sent word last night to officers here saying they could by packed with friends and presents have him if they wanted to come after him. He said he didn't leave jail Sunday evening, as was supposed, but hid under a bridge right in the middle of town until after dark and heard officers walk over the bridge talking about him. He has two brothers in the State prison. There is $200 reward. Montgomery is under life sentence for murder.

He is the second man who has escaped from the jail here with a life sentence hanging over him. A few years ago Milt Franklin, who killed Tom Stafford in the courthouse square here, was sentenced to a life term by a jury in Floyd county, where he wished to be tried. He was brought here awaiting an appeal to the Court of Appeals. He quickly knocked the jailer in the head, one night, and escaped, and he has not been heard of since. It will probably be the same with Montgomery.

Last night Detective Price and City Marshal Preston arrested and jailed Jack Kerne, alias Alphonse, in the county jail. He is charged with murder and other crimes in Virginia, and there is $300 reward for him.

DINGESS.

The Chaffin Hotel, owned by Dr. H. J. Jones, burned down Saturday morning, origin of the fire is supposed to be from kitchen flue. The doctor had just completed the repairs, and had it in first-class condition and had it rented to Leon Harris, of town. By hard and faithful work the citizens saved the two buildings near the hotel, occupied by R. J. Wits and Mrs. Elmer Chaffin which were badly scorched by the flames. WE always do more or less crowing about our Men's Clothing--Principally more.

We're ready right now to furnish an excellent spring suit to every Man or Boy that needs one. We said EXCELLENT when we should have said best. We know just how much difference there is between good clothing and poor clothing, and how disappointing the poor kind is. We do not keep the disappointing kind.

The Best Paint.

"United States" ready mixed paint is equal to the best made. In fact, it is privately guaranteed to be by the manufacturers to be identical with the name that they sell under a well known brand at a low price. By using the brand "United States" instead of the brand under which the leading manufacturers have made a big reputation we are allowed to sell the paint somewhat cheaper. We have a full line. We also carry the Paragon, an excellent paint.

OUR WEST VIRGINIA NEIGHBORS.

Roxie Clayton, aged 17, was married at Fairmont the other day to A. R. Keller. This was Roxie's second time to be married. She was first united in wedlock's holy bonds when only 11 years of age; was divorced at 16 and married again at 17. Her home is at Munningsburg.

Though the father is 83 years of age and the mother 57, the seventeenth child was born the other day to Mr. and Mrs. David Rhodes, of Charleston, W. Va. It was a girl.

Mr. Rhodes is a farmer and owns a comfortable home a short distance above this city. He has never been ill a day in his life, and is well satisfied with the simple home life that he leads. Mr. Rhodes looks much younger than he is, and can do as much hard farm work in a day as any one of his fourteen sons. The majority of the members of the household live in the family home, and it is a well regulated and very satisfied circle. Mrs. Rhodes is a devoted mother, and does not appear to be more than 40 years of age.

Announcement has been made of the time for holding the uniform teachers' examinations for this State. There will be three during the year 1907, in the period intervening between May 1st and September 15th. The first will be held on Thursday and Friday, May 23rd and 24th; the second on Thursday and Friday, July 18th and 19th, and the third on Friday and Saturday, September 6th and 7th.

The many friends of Mrs. Julia Spurlock, of Ceredo, will be sorry to learn of her death which occurred Wednesday. She was a very good woman, and is survived by two children, a son Charles and a daughter, Mrs. Chas. Hoard.

Sam T. Wellman, alleged to have committed arson, and indicted for the offense by a grand jury at Wayne, W. Va. ten years ago, and who has evaded arrest since that time, was captured at Burgess Station up the Big Sandy division by Deputy Sheriffs J. C. Hopkins and Geo. Fields, and taken to Catlettsburg and left in charge of Jailer Marcum for safe keeping until West Virginia officers came one after him. According to his story he has already served five years in the Moundsville penitentiary on the same charge, which if true the authorities of that state would hardly be making requisition upon Governor Beckham for his return to that state for the same offense.

Frank McElroy, ferryman on the Monongahela River at Randall, fell out of a second-story window at his boarding house and was instantly killed.

A cow belonging to John McClintock gave birth to five calves at his farm in Fayette county Tuesday. Four were born alive, but soon died, and the fifth was born dead. Dr. Haggard, the veterinary surgeon, says that in his experience he never heard of a similar case.

The towboat Delta was destroyed by fire at Lock 4, near Charleston, W. Va. The loss is estimated at $12,000.

Kentucky Is the Best Home.

To the Big Sandy News:-

Having been a regular reader of your weekly issue since coming to St. Leavenworth, Kans., I anxiously look for its arrival. Upon reading it I pass it on to others of the comrades who are anxious to devour the contents, especially that portion containing the general news of Kentucky. Not to occupy too much space in your columns I will now veer off by endeavoring to say something about my present home and surroundings. This place is beautiful in the extreme, (but not so beautiful as my old Kentucky home), being situated about two miles north of the city of Leavenworth on the Missouri river. The Fort itself is quite a large town. I will mention the living conditions of my present home, which I am sorry to say is not like life in the grand old blue grass state, and as it is about dinner time, and I suppose that you are aware of the fact that I love to eat so I will bring my short letter to a close, giving my Big Sandy friends my best regards.

PIONEERS WANTED!

The Government Offers to Lease
Reservation Lands.

Uncle Sam is seeking 500 hardy farmers, mountaineers preferred, to move over to them for a merely nominal rental 75,000 acres of irrigated land located in the Utah Indian Reservation. More than 15,000 acres of these lands are now irrigated by ditches constructed by the Government. Other canals are being built rapidly to cover the balance and the new settlers will be given employment at good wages on this work.

These lands are the allotments made to the Ute Indians, the band which recently left the Reservation and wandered northward into Wyoming and South Dakota. As these Utes don't care particularly for farming the Government is offering the white farmers an opportunity to acquire a home and a competence by cultivating these farms.

The Utah Indian Reservation is located in Northern Utah in the drainage basin of the Duchesne River and its tributaries. The lands are in the valleys of these streams. The altitude is from 5,000 to 6,000 feet above the sea level, giving this section a delightful climate. The summer temperature is rarely above 80 degrees and the winters are extremely mild. Wheat, oats, and alfalfa are the principal crops grown, although in the lower and more sheltered valleys apples, pears, apricots, peaches and plums do quite well. All of the fruit is of excellent flavor.

Surrounding the irrigated lands is a vast area of grazing lands which sustain enormous flocks of sheep and herds of cattle. Extensive deposits of minerals have been found in the Reservation and the development of this resource will provide a splendid market for all farm products.

At the present time the demand for stock food exceeds the supply and prices are very high. Last fall oats sold at the thrasher for two cents a pound and in the winter for three and one half cents. Alfalfa early in the fall sold at $14 per ton in the winter for $30 per ton. As the yield of alfalfa runs from 3 to 5 tons per acre, it affords a very profitable crop for the farmers.

Uncle Sam will lease these lands for a term of five years at an annual rental of twenty-five cents per acre, payable semi-annually. The settler is not required to live upon his farm, but must cultivate it. On the expiration of his lease he will be permitted to renew it, and in the event of the death of the Indian allottee, he may acquire the property in fee simple by purchase. The particulars regarding terms, location of the farms ready for occupancy, climate, crops, etc., may be obtained from Capt. Hall, Indian Agent, White Rocks, Utah, or from the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Washington, D. C.

OBITUARY.

In loving remembrance of Dora Mann, who died April 15th, 1907, aged 16 years and about 7 months. She was a good girl and every one who knew her loved her. She told her mother a few days before she departed this life that she was ready to die and was not afraid to die. Her disease was consumption. Dora was just budding into womanhood, but God saw fit to call her home where there is no more sorrow and pain. She bore her suffering without a murmur. She leaves a father, mother, four sisters, two brothers to mourn her departure. The funeral was conducted by the Rev. Cassidy, after which they laid her in the family graveyard.

When we see a precious blossom that we've tended with such care, suddenly taken from our bosom, how our aching hearts despair.

Monday afternoon as dastardly murder was committed at Boxley's Camp, near the town of Ona. Monroe Whitely, the victim, was a colored laborer employed at the camp, while the murderer is another negro known by various titles common among the colored community about railway camps. The murderer is in jail in Huntington.

Grayson, Ky., April 22.—The local telephone crew composed of Grayson boys, left today for Louisville, to complete the new telephone line that is to run from this town to Sandy Hook.

Orders have been given to the completion, with the fact that the things are being done to trial at Sandy Hook and the court sitting in the Court of Appeals will not cause a change of venue.

It has been more than forty years since litigation began between the Wiley and Wiley families of the Wiley Creek, Boyd county. The first suit was between John Wiley and John Wiley and arose out of a dispute over the division line between their farms. These men kept up the fight in court for many years and finally lost. The style of the suit now is Estate of Wiley against David Wiley a son and daughter, respectively of the original litigants, and they are endeavoring to settle the old question of the line between their properties.

A twelve-year-old son of George Dehr, of Carter county, was fatally hit in a peculiar manner. The child was given a yoke of calves to haul wood for the fire place his father having broken them for him. While going to the wood lot to draw in a log that was to be sawed up for buckings, he placed the small chain fastened to the yoke around his neck, walking behind the calves. A horse belonging to a neighbor dashed out of the brush in pursuit of a rabbit, starting the calves. They broke into a run, jerking the child from his feet and dragging him for about 100 yards through a section of timber. Both arms and one leg were broken and internal injuries received.

Lawrence county, Ohio, just opposite, Ashland, is stirred to the depths over an alleged dastardly crime involving a half-witted girl and the Rev. James Dillon, a local preacher. The incident of publicity was first turned on the sensational affair by the arrest of the Rev. Mr. Dillon at his home in Windsor, O., by Sheriff Taylor and Deputy Kinney.

The warrant issued for the preacher only prefers the charge of adultery and not assault, and it is that fact, coupled with the weak mind of the alleged victim of the pastor that adds to the sensation. The girl had been staying at the home of the preacher, Mrs. Dillon being confined to her bed with paralysis. The offense, it is alleged, was perpetrated in the same room where the wife of the alleged assailant is

Sometime afterward she told some of the neighbors of the crime that the preacher had, she alleged, committed. When the girl was taken before the grand jury she fainted.

Action was taken at once resulting in the swearing out of a warrant for the Rev. Mr. Dillon. The preacher, it is said, heard of the affair before the officers came for him and crossed the Ohio river to Kentucky. He was finally induced to go back by a friend he trusted and who told him he had fixed the matter up for him. Sheriff Taylor was in wait and the moment the preacher stepped on Ohio soil he was placed under arrest.

Mrs. Della Ann Banks, an elderly woman from West Virginia, was caught under the westbound passenger train, at Winchester, and had one leg cut off below the knee and the fingers of her right hand cut off. She is the wife of Frank Banks, of West Virginia, and had come in on the train by which she was injured.

She was making her way over to the L. and E. depot, en route to Jackson, Ky., accompanied by her half-grown son, when she became frightened at the lowering of the approaching street car and stepped right in front of the train, which was just pulling out. Before it could be stopped the engine and tender had passed entirely over her.

She was put on the same train and carried to the hospital in Lexington. She is over fifty years of age, which counts against her recovery.
